

A Bible Study at Your Convenience!

Greetings! Are you interested in learning more about the Bible but would like to learn at your own convenience? Then my weekly "Bible mailings" may be for you. I'm re-starting my Bible-study e-mail ministry. Each week, I send out a study of a chapter of the Bible with some commentary. It is written in outline format so it's easy to find your place. The next lessons are on the Book of Daniel. There is no homework and no questions to answer. Just read the lessons and let the Holy Spirit teach you some insights. Previous lessons will be available in the "Adult Education" section of the church web site and in the church library. Feel free to give it a try for a few weeks. You may stop at anytime. I promise, my feelings won't be hurt! ☺ John Karmelich.

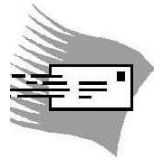

To join the list, just provide us your e-mail address, or just your name if you want to pick up a copy every Sunday at the library, or your name and address and we'll mail you each lesson if you can't come to the library every week. Previous lessons will be kept at the library as well as on the church web site. If you choose the lessons mailed, we require a small fee to cover the weekly mailing cost.
